

TTS Awards 4 Contracts for Governmentwide Agile Services

“The General Services Administration’s Technology Transformation Services awarded blanket purchase agreements BPAs to four tech companies to streamline governmentwide procurement of agile development and IT support services. Together the BPAs comprise the TTS Organization’s Transformation Agile Lifecycle Total and allow TTS to issue task orders on behalf of other agencies,” reports Dave Nyczepir in their Fed Scoop.

“Total is part of a federal push to accelerate digital transformation through shared services at the same time the Technology Modernization Fund prioritizes investments in cybersecurity and IT modernization. Outside GSA, TTS will be able to rapidly implement contracts for Agile Delivery at the speed of need, said Greg Godbout, director of digital services and business development at Fearless, which won one of the BPAs on July 15.”
