

TURNER PADGET ELECTS HANNAH STETSON TO SHAREHOLDER

Turner Padget Graham & Laney, P.A. announces that Columbia-based Hannah Stetson has been elected shareholder of the firm, effective January 3, 2022. Stetson is a member of the firm's Workplace Litigation team.

"We are delighted to add Hannah to our shareholder ranks. Her hard work, dedication, exemplary commitment to client service and the legal industry makes her the ideal candidate. She demonstrates admirable leadership in the firm through her ongoing support of our associate development program. Hannah is well-deserving of this recognition," said C. Pierce Campbell, chief executive officer of Turner Padget.

Stetson dedicates her practice to counseling, training and defending businesses and employers, including startups and small to mid-size businesses. In addition to advising employers throughout the Carolinas, Stetson has leveraged her employment law experience to champion Columbia's small business community. She was part of a team of Turner Padget lawyers who developed the firm's Palmetto Propeller initiative to provide pro bono assistance to startups and small businesses in the Southeast. Since its implementation, Stetson has counseled startup and small business owners on policies and best practices that help their companies grow and thrive in Columbia's marketplace. Within the firm, she cultivates the development of young lawyers' careers and previously served as co-chair of the firm's Associate Committee.

Stetson earned her undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina and her law degree from Wake Forest University School of Law.
