

Global Survey Data: Energy Management Budgets & Priorities For 2016

Verdantix will present data from interviews with 300 heads of energy and facilities in 15 countries around the world in a complimentary webinar scheduled for Thursday, August 6 at noon Eastern time.

The event will provide senior managers responsible for business planning, strategy, marketing and sales in energy services and equipment suppliers with the hard data needed to align your 2016 plans with the realities of market demand, the company says on its website.

“The Verdantix global survey data also provides insight into country-specific and industry-specific trends across segments such as decentralized energy, energy performance contracts, energy storage and energy software. You will hear from Verdantix analysts about the hot segments to target in 2016 based on our analysis of corporate spending priorities.”

Register for the webinar.