WB Mills, PLLC Adds Cynthia Dashiell as Of Counsel

- WB Mills, PLLC announces the addition of Cynthia Dashiell as of counsel to the Dallas-based IP law firm.

With her addition to the firm, WB Mills, PLLC, expands its trademark, copyright and business litigation practice to include patent law, the firm says in a release. Dashiell also works in trademark and copyright law.

In a release, the firm says Dashiell has more than 10 years of experience as an intellectual property attorney and spent nine years as an engineer in the areas of industrial, manufacturing and safety engineering. In her practice, Dashiell prepares patent applications (provisional, non-provisional and design) in the electrical and mechanical arts in various technological areas including: telecommunications (both packet switched and circuit switched), medical, thermal insulation, HVAC, agricultural and food processing equipment and software implementations. Additionally, Dashiell provides patent validity analysis and has experience with reexamination proceedings.

Dashiell also prepares and prosecutes trademark applications with the United Sates Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO).

“We are honored to have Cynthia join our firm as Of Counsel. With her strong knowledge and understanding of both patents and intellectual property, she will prove an extraordinary asset to the firm as we continue to grow,” said Wendy B. Mills, Attorney and Manager of WB Mills, PLLC.

A 2003 graduate of Texas Wesleyan University School of Law in Fort Worth, Texas, Dashiell graduated cum laude, was a staff member on the Texas Wesleyan Law Review, and served as a member of the Phi Delta Phi International Legal Honor Fraternity. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering from Texas A&M University.
