Webinar | California Reopening: Returning to the Workplace & Employment-Related Issues

Please join us for our "California Reopening: Returning to the Workplace & Employment-Related Issues" webinar. This program will be a multi-speaker discussion on some of the upcoming challenges employers face as they transition their work forces back into California workplaces.

Topics Include:
•How to manage health screenings and address privacy concerns.
•Re-hiring laid off employees and returning furloughed employees.
•Returning and remote worker wage and hour issues.
•Status of AB 5 and other classification issues related to reopening the workplace.
•Navigating city, county, state, and department of public health orders during reopening.
•Approaches to lawfully address situations such as requests for "hazard pay", safety concerns, and other potentially concerted activity, and employees who refuse to return to work.
•Frameworks to comply with COVID-19 laws and guidance that are:
o hyper-localized (state, county, city, public health departments issue shutdown orders and workplace guidance),
o heavily-regulated (every agency has something), o industry-specific (agencies have targeted guidance to industries), and o frequently-updated (the guidance websites change daily/weekly).

During registration, registrants will be prompted to provide the questions that are top of mind for them. We will spend a portion of this webinar addressing the questions submitted during registration and during the live webinar.
