

Webinar: Gas Pipeline Distribution Integrity Management Programs

☒ The U.S. Department of Transportation will present a webinar on the implementation of distribution integrity management programs.

The webinar will be Sept. 4, 2014, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. EDT.

Gas distribution pipeline operators were required to have prepared and implemented distribution integrity management programs (DIMP) by August 2, 2011. Federal and state regulators have been inspecting those programs and their implementation since that date.

This webinar will be an opportunity for the regulators to share their experience with implementation topics with the public and the regulated community. The webinar will also include discussion of analyses of the 2013 submissions of data concerning mechanical fitting failures in gas distribution pipelines.
