William E. Gibbs Joins Sodl & Ingram, PLLC

Firm's growth aligns with increased demand across Northeast Florida's real estate sector

November 30, 2021 – Jacksonville, Fla. – Sodl & Ingram, PLLC, a law firm that serves clients in commercial real estate, investment, financing and development, today announced that William E. Gibbs has joined the firm as an attorney in its Downtown Jacksonville office.

Gibbs brings nearly a decade of experience to his new role. His arrival coincides with a period of accelerated demand across Northeast Florida's commercial real estate sector, which is reflected in the firm's consistent growth since launching in 2019.

"Interest in our region's commercial real estate market is increasing every day," said Andrew M. Sodl, a founding attorney with Sodl & Ingram. "We anticipate even more development in multiple areas over the coming years. Bringing Will onto our team reinforces our commitment to providing the best services, capabilities and counsel to our clients in this rapidly changing market."

Gibbs, a Jacksonville native, represents clients in commercial real estate, land use and entitlement matters, as well as business transactions. He regularly counsels investors, landowners, developers, local government entities and lenders to acquire, dispose, finance and develop real property. He excels in guiding clients through the process of obtaining government approvals necessary to develop and sell real estate across Northeast Florida.

Gibbs earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Florida in 2012, and was recently selected to the "Best Lawyers: One to Watch" list for 2022. He joins Sodl & Ingram from Akerman LLP, where he was an associate in the firm's real estate practice group.

"Andy and I have seen Will's practice evolve and thrive over the past several years. His passion for our community's continued improvement is evident in the care and attention that he dedicates to every client and project," said Thomas Ingram, a founding attorney with Sodl & Ingram. "We are grateful to have him on our team."
