

World's Largest Law Firm Announces Special Bonuses

"Dentons – a firm with almost 11,000 lawyers spread across the globe, with most of them situated in the U.S. – announced yesterday that they'd be matching market bonuses for associates," reports Staci Zaretsky in Above the Law's Biglaw.

"To receive a full bonus, associates must meet 2,000 creditable billable hours by year, and those who hit 2,250 hours or more will be entitled to a bit of a bonus boost. Only associates on track to hit their minimum hours will receive bonus money."
